Why me?

My name is Caoimhín Heaney, I'm a final year student here at Ulster University and a current sports ambassador and member of the GAA club. Throughout my time here, I have experienced, first hand, the impact that sport can play on student life at university and how truly important and binding sport is.

My time playing sport with Ulster truly was a key part of my student experience and I want to ensure that every student gets that same experience!

My goal as your new Sport and Wellbeing VP is to drive sport to the forefront of the Ulster experience, break current barriers we face and to bring sport at Ulster University to a bigger and better place!
